Rowan Crothers OAM

Rowan Crothers is not only a decorated Paralympian but remains at the forefront of the sport. At the 2025 World Para Swimming Championships in Singapore, he expanded his legacy:

Gold – Men's 50 m Freestyle S10 (retained world title; set an Oceania record)

Gold – Men's 100 m Freestyle S10

Gold – Mixed 4x100 m Freestyle 34 pts (relay) (with Alexa Leary, Chloe Osborn, Callum Simpson) — including a world record (3:58.40)

These results bring his world title tally to eight (five individual + three relay) and underscore his continued dominance in para swimming.

About Rowan

Rowan's path to greatness is defined by fierce determination, humility, and vision. Off the blocks, he balances life as a competitor with a passion for esports (a second career he paused to pursue Tokyo dreams). In moments of triumph—such as his emphatic win in Tokyo's 50 m S10 final—he has shown both raw competitive edge and charismatic humanity.

He speaks powerfully about inclusion, resilience, diversity, and leadership: whether it's fighting stereotypes, leveling the playing field, or opening doors for those often overlooked. His message is simple: excellence comes from consistent work, self-belief, and lifting others along the way.

After Paris 2024 (earning 2 silvers, 1 bronze), Rowan is already setting his sights on LA 2028, aiming to push time barriers once again.
