Jason Hodges

Jason Hodges became a household favourite as resident landscape gardener on the Seven Network's lifestyle program Better Homes and Gardens for over 21 years.

Jason combines his media commitments with running a successful landscaping business called Green Art Gardens, based in Sydney. Jason and his team at Green Art won gold medals at multiple Melbourne International Flower and Garden Show for their unique and attractive garden designs including again in 2019.

Jason is a down to earth person who engenders trust with his audience. His genuine and laid back nature makes him an ideal fit with outdoor, DIY and tradesperson groups. He is actively involved with several charities and spends his spare time with his daughter Heidi.

He founded and now runs a buxus farm in regional NSW called Buxus Balls of Berry.

Location: Berry, NSW
